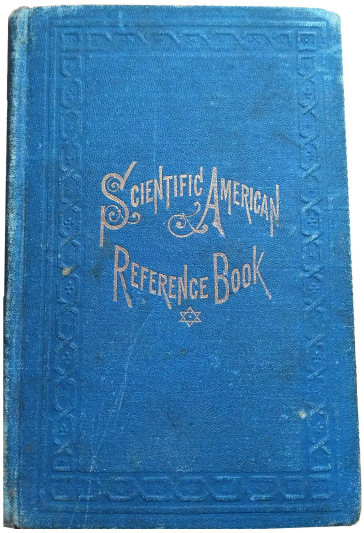
Five VV's of Occultists I

This investigation is truly harrowing, and hopefully by the end of this article you too will find yourself unsettled. Knowledge is power, and with great power comes great responsibility. The evidence of the premise made herein is overwhelming and can literally be found in every book before the modern era. Let's take a look at a few exerts from the annals of time and the pages of past. The evidence is all original from the sources, some exerts I have added origin reference points for your evaluation but much of it has been left for the students or researchers working towards their own Rhetoric.

The occultist usurpers goal is simple, they HATE God, and they intend to completely misconfigure and destroy any form of creation. They take joy in mockery of ignorant public, by submitting the unsuspecting victims through all harmful forms of rituals within their lexicon. Several psychological terms come to mind which for now will be reserved for later investigation.

This investigation will focus on a famous yet unknown to the public occultist: St. Paul the Apostle : Canaanite Infiltrator, Deciever, Vigilant Talmudist to the end.



The following passage will introduce occult science, an example ofwhich is located in my own personal library. Seen here in 1877 the sign of the occultists prominently displayed on the cover. Imgine as early as 1877 the “Occultists” already had full control over “Science in America”. They accomplished this via their network of fraternities which they conveniently reminded us here on p.37* where they brag about being No.37* Park Row, HQ for the city newspaper fraternity and the business center of the metropolis. *I measured to see if the two 37’s on the page were 37mm apart, confirming occultism.

This could be debated as coincidence but there are far too many coincidences in every book.

occult science. The occultists have been a race apart from an earlier period than we can fathom—not a separate race physically, not a uniform race physically at all, nor a nation in any sense of the word, but a continuous association of men of the highest intelligence linked together by a bond stronger than any other tie of which mankind has experience, and carrying on with a perfect continuity of purpose the studies and traditions and mysteries of self-development handed down to them by their predecessors. All this time the stream of civilization, on the foremost waves of which the culture of modern Europe is floating, has been wholly and absolutely neglectful of the one study with which the occultists have been solely engaged. What wonder that the two lines of civilization have diverged so far apart that their forms are now entirely unlike each other. It remains to be VVho are the occultists of many forms and names, whom hide behind veils of symbols visible only to initiates?

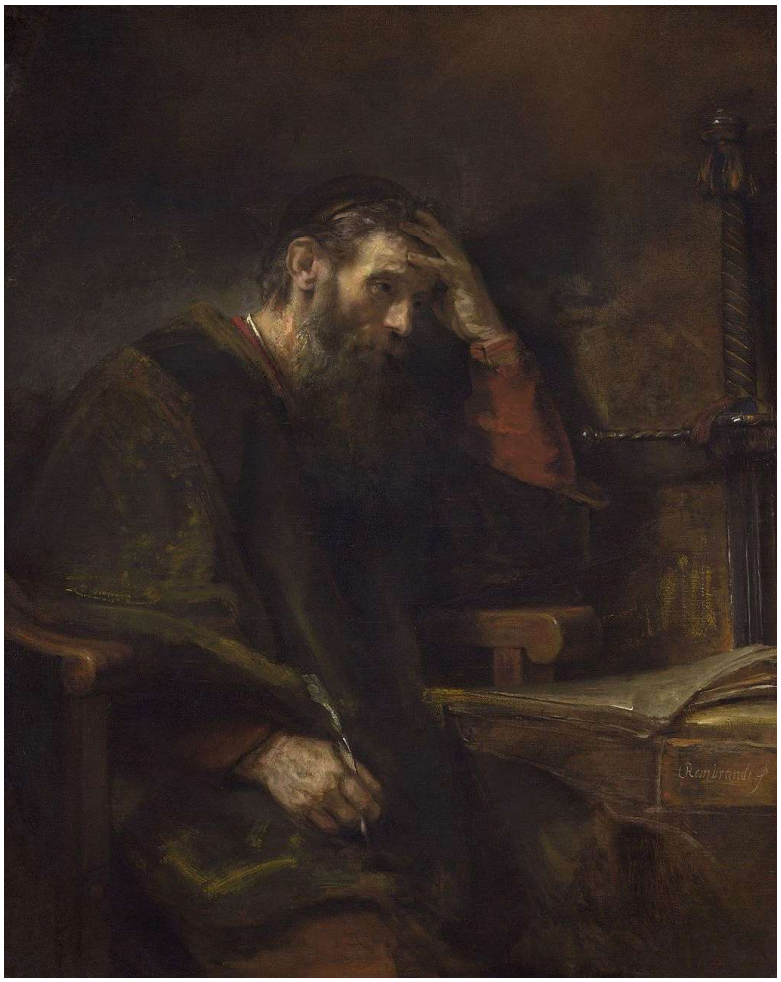
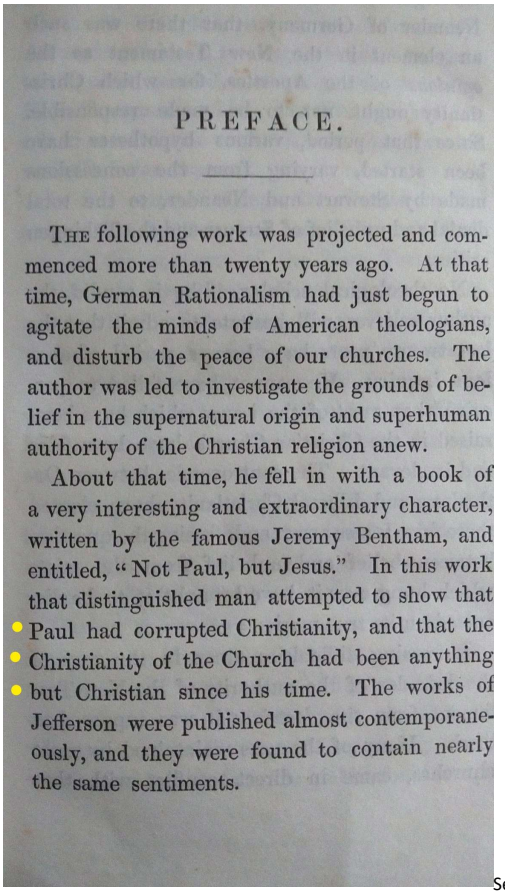
St. Paul, who was an occultist, speaks of man as constituted of body, soul, and spirit. The distinction is one that hardly fits in with the theory, that when a man dies his soul is translated to heaven or hell for ever. What, then, becomes of the spirit, and what is the spirit as different from the soul, on the ordinary hypothesis? Orthodox thinkers work out each some theory on the subject for himself. Either that the soul is the seat of the emotions and the spirit of the intellectual faculties, or vice versâ. No one can put such conjectures on a solid foundation, not even on the basis of an alleged revelation. But St. Paul was not indulging in vague fancies when he made use of the expression quoted. The spirit he was referring to may be described as the soul of the soul. With that for the



A popular Rembrandt painting of his occultist buddy Paul, Rembrandt himself an occultist – note St. Pauls left hand making the infamous VV of the Tubal-Cain clan from whence Canaan descended, as did Paul. It is not shown prominantly but one does not need to see it direclty to know it is the hand gesture of an occultist.



PREFACE.

THE following work was projected and commenced more than twenty years ago. At that time, German Rationalism had just begun to agitate the minds of American theologians, and disturb the peace of our churches. The author was led to investigate the grounds of belief in the supernatural origin and superhuman authority of the Christian religion anew.

About that time, he fell in with a book of a very interesting and extraordinary character, written by the famous Jeremy Bentham, and entitled, "Not Paul, but Jesus." In this work that distinguished man attempted to show that Paul had corrupted Christianity, and that the Christianity of the Church had been anything but Christian since his time. The works of Jefferson were published almost contemporaneously, and they were found to contain nearly the same sentiments.

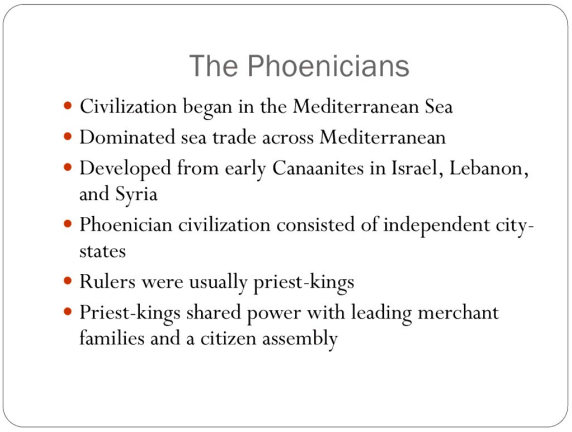
Paul, who was actually Saul of Tarsus, from Tribe of Benjamin ,of the Amorites; descendants of Canaan. The Cannanites later changing their name to "Phoenicians" around 1300bc, have been the source of much folly in every scripture and epoch known to man.



The Phoenicians
Civilization began in the Mediterranean Sea
Dominated sea trade across Mediterranean
Developed from early Canaanites in Israel, Lebanon, and Syria
Phoenician civilization consisted of independent city-states
Rulers were usually priest-kings
Priest-kings shared power with leading merchant families and a citizen assembly

Canaan is certainly one O.G. [Original Gangster], to be contended with. Imperative at this moment would be to highlight what is said about Canaan in the Talmud. Next we will expose VVhere and VVhen Canaan can be found in historical texts, not just in scriptural canon.

*Canaan is such a vast subject of investigation, will be noted and investigated further at a later time.

The Gemara continues: Canaan commanded his sons with regard to five matters that are apparently normal behavior for slaves: Love one another, love robbery, love promiscuity, hate your masters, and do not speak the truth.

13 שִׁשָּׁה דְּבָרִים נֶאֱמְרִים בַּסּוּס: אוֹהֵב אֶת הַזְּנוּת, וְאוֹהֵב אֶת הַמִּלְחָמָה, וְרוּחוֹ גַּסָּה, וּמוֹאֵס אֶת הַשִּׁינָה, וְאוֹכֵל הַרְבֵּה וּמוֹצִיא קְמְעָה. וְיֵשׁ אוֹמְרִים: אַף מְבַקֵּשׁ לַהֲרוֹג בְּעָלָיו בַּמִּלְחָמָה.

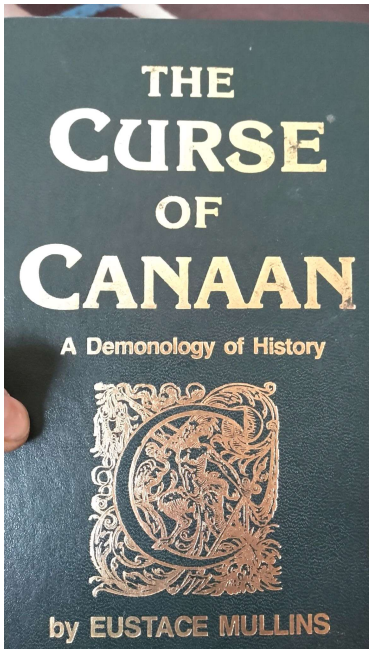
VVhy?



"In order to understand why the name of Shem was systematically reviled and concealed throughout the records of history, we must return to the record of his thoroughly degenerate and evil nephew, Canaan. Canaan was so wicked that his last will and testament to his children was a formula for vice. It read, "Love one another (that is, of this tribe only), love robbery, love lewdness, hate your masters, and do not speak the truth." This remarkable document, the Will of Canaan, is to be found in only one place in all the world's theological literature, the Babylonian Talmud, where it is presented thusly, "Five things did Canaan charge his sons: love one another, love robbery, love lewdness, hate your masters, and do not speak the truth." Pes. 113b"*

"The Will of Canaan has been the Canaanites prescription for all of their operations during the ensuing three thousand years. Meanwhile, the people of Shem, knowing nothing of this document, vainly tried to "convert" the Canaanites, and turn them from their evil ways. If the descendants of Shem had been warned of the precepts imparted by this document, the history of the last three thousand years could have been very different. The Will of Canaan today remains the operating instructions of the Canaanite heirs, who presently control the World Order. At the same time, it remains unknown to the peoples whom the Canaanites continue to rob, enslave, and massacre. The Will of Canaan contains the instructions necessary to resist the results of the Curse of Canaan, which condemn them to slavery. The instructions to "hate your masters," that is, Shem and Japheth and their descendants, is a command to commit genocide against the people of Shem. For this reason, all subsequent Canaanite rites are based upon these exhortations to struggle and commit acts of violence against the people of Shem. It is not only the basis for all of the revolutions and "liberation movements" since that time, it is also a basic incitement to commit genocide and to carryon racial wars. Because of the three-thousand-year historical blackout, the people of Shem have never understood their peril, and they have frequently been subject to massacre because their essential goodness made it impossible for them to believe the vileness of the Canaanites. The Will of Canaan has always been concealed from them because it is the basic program of conspiracy and secret rites which enable the Canaanites to wreak their hatred upon the descendants of Shem."

Quote from: Curse of Canaan A Demonology of History by Eustice Mullins 1987

* Should be noted to withstand confusion, today's Isrealites are not of Semitic origin, rather of Hamitic descend, Khazarian or Ascenazi descend. The whole anti-semitism bit is just apologetics mixed with cryptic public mockery, for the totally, and I mean, in complete totality unaware public. Who despite repeated recent trespasses on common sense and civility refuse to see and accept that which is right in front of their eyes, yet do not see.

This is Hermes Trismegistus, aka Thoth, aka Canaan – this shown in many works one example below. Yes, Egyptian Thoth of the Emerald Tablets, father of Hermeticism, Annunaki God, is one the same Canaan, son of Ham, son of Noah. Noah a Hebrew reinvention of the Babylonian Ziusudra, or as the Sumerians knew him, Utnapishtim; is the last descending line of anti-diluvian kings that allegedly ruled earth for hundreds of thousands of years. (Speaking on Noah, progenitor of mankind after the flood) that the etymology of the word is connected with Egypt. Borrichius's own private opinion is clearly to the effect, that the hermetic art descended from Tubal-Cain or Vulcan; but he allows that there is much to be said in favour of Trismegistus who has been supposed by some to have been Chanaan, the son of Ham, whose son Mizraim first occupied Egypt.
